

The Improving Financial Awareness & Financial Literacy Movement in Kenya

Executive Summary / Overview

Having better personal finance knowledge changes your world and the world around you... FOREVER!

Kenya has a population nearing 50 million with a declining unemployment rate nearing 12%. This leaves over 40% of our population living below the poverty line with many families struggling to survive, existing on ~ $1.00 US per day. We are also experiencing increases in debt.

We are not taught at home or school about planning for our future and why it's important to have a current financial, estate and gift plans to protect themselves and our families. We have a collection of serious problems resulting in a high percentage of poverty coupled with a lack of financial awareness resulting in a serious financial illiteracy epidemic. The lack of financial awareness, along with the financial illiteracy epidemic places a HUGE growing amount of pressure on families and friends, employers, nonprofits; as well as the ultimate safety net the government. This is not just a local epidemic it's an international one.

Earning and building personal wealth and managing personal finances today are more complicated and more important than ever. We're living longer and need to earn more, save more, and invest more wisely to build financial resources to care for ourselves and families. Many of us are insecure with our work and the future of our homes. We see our money being drained by the high cost of food and water, healthcare, housing, education, and taxes while dealing with the uncertainty of investments and our local and global economy. We worry about the future, or unfortunately in many cases, simply try not to think about it.

Most people are not taught the essential principles to smart money management – the foundation to personal finance knowledge - at home or in school. Thus they don't have the proper tools to address everyday financial decisions in an informed manner.

This jeopardizes their financial and physical wellness, their ability to realistically achieve and maintain their personal and family financial dreams, let alone enjoy a financially secure debt free future.

One Powerful Solution

Wouldn't it be great if there is a real solution to this lack of financial awareness and financial illiteracy epidemic? We strongly believe there is, and it revolves around better educating The People - the general public, educators, financial service and nonprofit professionals to the essential principles to smart money management while motivating them to get and keep their financial, house in order with a current financial, estate and gift plan. People need access to better personal financial management tools and information, to communicate and work more effectively with their financial advisors – (that includes fee-based service providers and sales people), and to make better informed every day money decisions.
